BOSTON
CITY
REPORTS

Office of the Board of Fire Commissioners,
74 Tremont Street, Boston, Feb. 1, 1892.

Hon. Nathan Matthews, Jr.,
Mayor of the City of Boston:

Sir: The Fire Commissioners respectfully submit the nineteenth annual report of this department since its reorganization, including, in this instance, a statement of its operations for thirteen months, ending January 31, and showing its condition upon that date, with certain recommendations looking to its steady improvement in the future.

Alarms and Losses.

During the thirteen months ending January 31, 1892, there were 1,230 bell and still alarms, besides 24 second and 7 third alarms. This is a considerable increase over any previous period of equal duration. Of these alarms, 162 were needless and 12 were false. The fire loss amounts to about a million and a half dollars, a large amount considered by itself, but not excessive when the character of the fires and the value of the property at stake are considered.

Growth of the Department.

The strength of the department has been increased during the year as far as the resources at its disposal would permit. Since the last report was issued a double engine-company has been put in commission on Congress street, and has added materially to the protection of a section where property of great extent and value is at stake. A new house in East Boston for the accommodation of an engine company and a ladder company has been completed and occupied. The house of Hose 6 has been altered for the reception of Chemical Engine 7, bringing that important piece of apparatus nearer the centre of the district, and thus more promptly available for the great majority of fires occurring there than it was before. Thus East Boston is stronger by the addition of a permanent engine-company and a better disposition of her forces. A new aërial ladder-truck and company have been located in the house built for this purpose on Harrison avenue, near Harvard street. A new engine-house has been completed and accepted at Allston, and a company will be organized and equipped for service at that point in a few weeks. Another engine-house is practically ready at Egleston square, though not yet accepted. At Washington Village, a house to accomodate a steam fire-engine and eventually a ladder truck is in process of construction and will probably be finished in the early summer. After encountering many discouragements the Commissioners have at last succeeded in finding and purchasing a site for a ladder house on Washington street opposite the Consumptives' Home at Grove Hall. The location seems in all respects satisfactory, and building will commence as soon as the money is appropriated. The same is true of the chemical engine-house site at Ashmont. Requests have been made for the location of more apparatus in various portions of Dorchester, Roxbury, and West Roxbury, and several of them are grounded in reason; but there ought to be some immediate prospect of building upon what we have before recommending the purchase of more land to lie idle.

The Commissioners are happy to announce that with respect to the long-delayed department headquarters, they have reached a stage of comparative definiteness. A site has been secured on Bristol street, adjoining the yard of the department repair-shop. The City Architect and the Commissioners have had frequent and careful consultations, and the former has produced a set of plans which promise to satisfactorily meet the requirements which have so often been given publicity by this Board. While the site selected is neither the first nor second choice of the Commissioners, it is the best, all things considered, that they were able to obtain; and when the building is completed and equipped with a new and improved fire-alarm system, it will be found a highly valuable addition to the department.

One of the most pressing needs of the service is a commodious, light, warm, and well-ventilated stable where can be kept and cared for, spare horses, or horses that need rest on account of overwork, or treatment because of injuries, lameness, etc. The money for the building has already been arranged for, and it was proposed to erect it upon land owned by the city on Boston street, adjoining Engine-house 21, but public sentiment was so opposed to that location that it had to be abandoned. A recommendation is now before the City Council that the site of the old bath-house on Cabot street be used for this purpose. It is desirable that the matter should soon be settled, as at present the department has to hire quarters for this branch of its business.

One of the leading features in the general scheme for increasing the strength of the department which was adopted a couple of years ago was the establishment of a double-engine company at the North End, as near as possible to the centre of the circle made by the various pieces of apparatus now located in the business section of the city proper. The Commissioners have searched diligently to find a proper site for such a house, but thus far their efforts have been barren of results. This fact they greatly regret, for all the time the need of this increased protection is growing more imperative.

NEW APPARATUS.

The interests of the department demand that a certain amount of new apparatus should be purchased each year, not merely to equip new companies, but to meet the wear and tear that is as much a factor here as in any other kind of business where machinery is extensively employed. During the past year five new Clapp & Jones steam-engines of third size have been bought, each with a capacity of over 600 gallons per minute. Several of these have been located in Dorchester and West Roxbury, replacing the old and much-worn apparatus there with as good machinery as any part of this or any other city can show. Another piece of apparatus which gives hopeful promise of being an important adjunct to the system is a combination chemical-engine and hose-wagon, recently received from the manufacturer, Mr. Charles T. Holloway, of Baltimore, and located at Roslindale. Another has been ordered and is in process of construction. This combination seems to promise most excellent results in the dwelling-house portions of the city where the water pressure is sufficient to give a fair hydrant-stream. The Commissioners have now equipped three engines and five ladder-trucks with three-horse hitches, and during the year they hope to still further extend the use of these valuable devices.

WATER SUPPLY.

While for the most part Boston is provided with a water service ample for almost any possible demand upon it, in some sections building has been so extensive and sporadic as to make the provision to meet it insufficient. The Fire Commissioners and the Water Commissioners have had frequent and friendly conferences concerning this matter, and the latter have shown a disposition to cordially cooperate with this board and carry out to the extent of their power the improvements which the experiences of this department show to be necessary. We are indebted to the Water Board for valuable sets of plans and maps, showing where the strength or weakness of the service lies, and how much apparatus can be effectively worked at a given point. Not only is the work of laying more and larger mains to be pushed as fast as possible, but steps have also been taken toward the introduction of a new and improved hydrant-service, and when the contemplated work is completed, Boston will be as well equipped in this respect as almost any city in the land.

INSPECTION OF WIRES.

Within the year the city ordinances have been so changed as not only to restore to this department one of its most vital features, the fire-alarm telegraph, but also to place under its charge the whole duty and responsibility of the inspection of wires. A report of this branch of the service is given elsewhere. While the work of this bureau is unquestionably a benefit to the city, the value of the service might be greatly increased if it was invested with more authority; and to this end additional legislation is recommended. Immediate improvements in the fire-alarm system are in progress or in contemplation, and when the new plant on Bristol street shall be established, it will be the aim of the Commissioners to see that it is as complete in all valuable devices for quick and effective work as modern invention can make it.

PERSONNEL OF THE DEPARTMENT.

The composition of the force in all its branches includes 762 men, of whom 156 are call members. In addition there are 40 pensioners on the pay-roll of the department, and more will be added this year. The new companies to go into service will also call for an enlargement of the working-force. We are sorry to be again obliged to declare the provincial feature of a great city like Boston, by announcing that the department is still partly on a call basis; and the Commissioners desire to once more go on record, as they have for the past five years, in favor of a speedy termination of this mixed condition of things. The call men, as a class, are individually excellent, but the system is a damage and a reproach, a relic of antiquity that is now very much out of place. Good work has been done at the drill school in its various branches the past year, and special provisions will be made at the new headquarters to give this important feature increased value.

HORSES.

There are now in service in the department 273 horses, of which number the city owns 218, the others being extras for winter use, loaned by various parties for the consideration for their proper care and keeping. The condition of these animals has been for the most part excellent, the department veterinary recently reporting that of this large number there was not one unable to perform his duty. During the year 43 horses were purchased and 5 received from the Inspector of Wires, 23 were sold or exchanged, and 2 died from disease. The number of horses receiving treatment during the year was 158, resulting in 345 cases, of which 13 were horses taken for use during the winter months, 95 were received at the hospital stable, and the others were attended at the houses where they were assigned.

RANK AND FILE.

The year has been marked by a larger number of stubborn fires than usual, and has therefore given generous opportunity to test the mettle of both officers and men. The Commissioners have found renewed cause, in the experiences of these thirteen months, to feel pride and confidence in the loyalty, zeal, and efficiency of the department, and desire to cordially thank those who have so faithfully carried out their wishes and commands.

THE POLICE DEPARTMENT.

The same summons that calls the firemen to frequent and protracted effort also brings out the police to sustain an important part; and this department acknowledges its indebtedness to them on many warm occasions for prompt and efficient service. On them largely depends the duty of clearing the way for action, and their work along this line has been very satisfactory.

THE PROTECTIVE ALLY.

The protective service has maintained its acknowledged excellence, and with the additions that have been made to the working force, and the contemplated enlargement of the department by a new station on Appleton street, its good work can be largely extended.

THE FIRE MARSHAL.

The class of crimes with which this official has to deal is one very difficult to prove to the satisfaction of the law; but in several important instances the past year these difficulties have been overcome, thus proving the sagacity and diligence of the head of the office, and showing its machinery to be in good working order.

THE BOARD OF FIRE COMMISSIONERS consists of three members. One member is appointed annually, for a term of three years, from the first Monday in May each year. The nomination is made by the Mayor, subject to confirmation by the Board of Aldermen.

ROBERT G. FITCH, Chairman, for three years from May, 1889. Term expires May, 1892.

JOHN R. MURPHY, for three years from May, 1891. Term expires May, 1894.

GEORGE H. INNIS, for unexpired term of RICHARD F. TOBIN, deceased. From December, 1890. Term expires May, 1893.

Salaries, $3,500 each.

Frederick W. Smith, Jr., Clerk. Appointed by the Fire Commissioners. Salary, $2,400.

FIRE DISTRICTS.

The city is divided into ten fire districts, as follows:

DISTRICT 1. — Comprises all that part of Boston known as East Boston.

DISTRICT 2. — All that part of Boston formerly known as Charlestown.

DISTRICT 3. — All that part east of a line beginning at the Charles-river drawbridge, and running through the centre of Charlestown street, Haymarket square, and Washington to Summer street, and north of Summer street and the N.Y. and N.E. R.R. passenger depot to the water.

DISTRICT 4. — All that part west of District 3, and north of a line running through the centre of Winter and Park streets, and west of Beacon, to Arlington street, west side of Commonwealth avenue, to Chester park, to water.

DISTRICT 5. — All that part south of Districts 3 and 4 to the centre of Dover-street drawbridge, and a line running through the centre of Dover, Berkeley, Boylston, east side of Commonwealth avenue, to Arlington, to Boylston street.

DISTRICT 6. — All that part of Boston known as South Boston.

DISTRICT 7. — All that part of Boston south of District 5, to the centre of Albany street; thence through the centre of Albany and Northampton streets, Columbus avenue and Chester park, to east side of Commonwealth avenue, to centre of Berkeley, to Dover street.

DISTRICT 8. — All that part south and west of District 7, to the boundary line of West Roxbury, and west of Washington street to the Brookline boundary line, and including all of Ward 25, formerly Brighton.

DISTRICT 9. — All that part south of Districts 6 and 7, to West Roxbury line, running through the centre of Blue Hill avenue, Columbia, Green, Bowdoin, Church, and Commercial streets, to Dorchester avenue, thence due east to the water.

DISTRICT 10. — All the southerly part of Boston south o. Districts 8 and 9, including West Roxburyf

ASSIGNMENT OF DISTRICTS.

Each district is placed under the charge of an Assistant Engineer, as follows:

Water and Hydrants.

The total number of hydrants in the city February 1 was 5,932. In addition to these hydrants there are 238 fire reservoirs in different sections of the city that contain from 300 to 500 hogsheads of water, and can be used in an emergency. The number of hydrants added during the year is as follows: 47 Lowry, 206 Post, 1 Boston, and 82 Boston Lowry.

In all cases the Water Board have cheerfully complied with the requests of this board in the establishment of hydrants, whenever necessity required.

The following property is in charge of the Board of Commissioners of the Fire Department:

REPORT OF INSPECTOR OF WIRES.

To the Board of Fire Commissioners:

GENTLEMEN: I hereby submit a report of the work done by this bureau from June 1, 1891, to Feb. 1, 1892, covering the inspection of buildings in which electric currents of high and low potential are used for lighting and power service, under ground service of various companies, the plant of the West End Street Railway, the Fire-Alarm Telegraph, and other features relating to electric service, as far as the work has been carried on since this department has been in active operation.

Number of places examined	2,711
Defects reported	968
Defects remedied	211
Isolated plants examined	51
Arc lights examined	1,894
Incandescent lights examined	46,082
Motors examined	456
Notices of installation received	1,058
Number of buildings from which dead and abandoned wires have been removed	1,607
Amount of wire removed	294,244 feet.
Reports of defective wires received	521
Reports of same sent to owners	544

An order has been passed by the Board of Aldermen directing this department to examine and report the number of pole locations which have been accepted by various companies doing business in the city. The requirements of this order are now being carried out, and about 5,500 of the 7,000 locations granted have been examined.

Plans of streets, showing the locations of poles which have been granted by the Board of Aldermen, are now being prepared in the office of the Inspector.

The underground service of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company is obtained by the use of conduits of which four different kinds are used, viz.: Wrought-iron pipe in concrete, cement-lined iron pipe in concrete, creosoted wooden boxes and vitrified clay pipe.

The work was commenced in 1882, and conduits ranging from two to fifty ducts each are now laid in Boston proper, South End, Back Bay, and Charlestown, as follows:

Miles of conduits	18.1
Miles of ducts	167.7
Number of manholes	397

The underground cable system of this company consists principally of lead covered cables, varying from twenty to two hundred copper wires in each, and the total amount in Boston, Jan. 1, 1892, is:

Miles of cables	69.3
Miles of wire in cable	7,864.6

The Edison Electric Illuminating Company have about forty miles of conduits, and there are two miles in use by the Western Union Telegraph Company.

The West End Street Railway Company have 58,226 miles of electric lines in Boston, using two hundred and forty-two long and forty-seven short cars, producing 5,920 electrical horse-power at its central power-station, and 1,120 at the station in Allston.

I have recently procured a test-board of comprehensive design and elaborate finish, and have placed it in service at headquarters, for the purpose of testing the carrying capacity of wires, switches, cut-outs, etc., and for ascertaining the amount of current necessary to fuse automatic cut-outs, and safety devices of all kinds. Also for testing the insulation of wires, and for such electrical experiments and demonstrations as may properly come before this department for examination or illustration.

I desire in this connection to call the attention of your honorable Board to the fact that the ordinance under which the Department for the Inspection of Wires was organized does not give to the Inspector sufficient authority to enable him to properly carry out the purpose for which it was formed, and while the various companies have generally cheerfully acquiesced in the suggestions which have from time to time been made to them, it is evident that far greater results might be obtained if the power of the Inspector should be extended and more clearly defined. I would therefore recommend that some action be taken to this end.

The new construction and repair work done for the maintenance of the Fire Alarm system within the year ending February 1, 1892, is as follows:

Alarm circuits 1, 3, 9, 11, 18, 22, 23, and 24, and telephone circuits 4, 9, 10, and 13, have been rebuilt from headquarters to the corner of Congress and High streets; circuits 18 and 22, and telephone circuit 15 partially renewed to Western avenue, and alarm circuits 6, 12, 15, and 16; box-gong circuits 30 and 32 reconstructed from Sudbury street to Warren bridge.

Fixtures have been rebuilt and arms placed on same for renewal of alarm circuits 2, 7, 8, 13, and 19, box-gong circuit 31, and telephone circuits 7, 8, and 25, on the Tremont-street route from headquarters to Camden street.

A new telephone circuit has been constructed connecting the house of Commissioner Innis with the system, and circuits 17 and 27 have been made metallic for the purpose of destroying induction from high-tension currents, which at times seriously interferes with the successful operation of the service.

No. 25 has been partially reconstructed, and others will be changed to a metallic basis as soon as the routine work of reconstruction and repairs on the general system will permit.

Fixtures have been rebuilt, enlarged, and repaired; old poles taken down, new ones set in their places; others set for extension of the service, and new wire run in various localities throughout the city, where the conditions have required such work to be done, and five hundred four, six, and eight-pinned arms have been placed on a line of new poles set by the Postal Telegraph Cable Company from Congress-street bridge to Dedham line, to be used in future construction.

Sixty-eight new poles have been set and one hundred and one old ones taken down during the year.

Twenty-four signal-boxes have been added to the system, and new apparatus boards placed in the houses of Engines 24, 28, 32, 36, and 40, Truck 17, Chemical Engines 7 and 8, and the new houses at Egleston square and Allston; Engine 40 and Truck 17 being also supplied with new fire-alarm apparatus.

A sub-marine cable has been laid at the draw of Congress-street bridge, and a twenty-five conductor over-head cable run from headquarters to Simmons building on Water street.

The work of new construction will be carried on as fast as the routine work of the service will permit, and for this purpose I propose to make use of copper wire of larger size than has been used heretofore, in order to ensure greater tensile strength and better conductivity.

I also propose to construct one circuit with covered iron wire, as an experiment, with the view of adopting it in future work if it gives satisfactory results.

Respectfully submitted,

B. S. FLANDERS,

Inspector of Wires.

A constant watch is kept at the headquarters, City Hall, night and day, by the operators. Each set of operators have assigned to them certain hours of duty, during which time they are responsible for the correct working of the apparatus in giving alarms, and all testing of the circuits and other details pertaining to the service. An automatic arrangement is connected with the receiving apparatus, by which assistance may be called from the sleeping apartments, if at any time the operators should be suddenly incapacitated by illness from performing their duties. No operator is permitted to sleep during his watch, unless expressly relieved by some one else, and by consent of the Superintendent.

Each operator is accountable to the Superintendent for any mistakes that may occur at the office during his hours of duty.

An accurate account is kept of the time of giving each alarm, and of the station from which it originates, and all other necessary information.

There are 544 fire-alarm boxes, divided as follows, viz.:

Boston	159
South Boston	52
East Boston	48
Roxbury	81
Dorchester	77
Charlestown	42
